

conservation cottage.

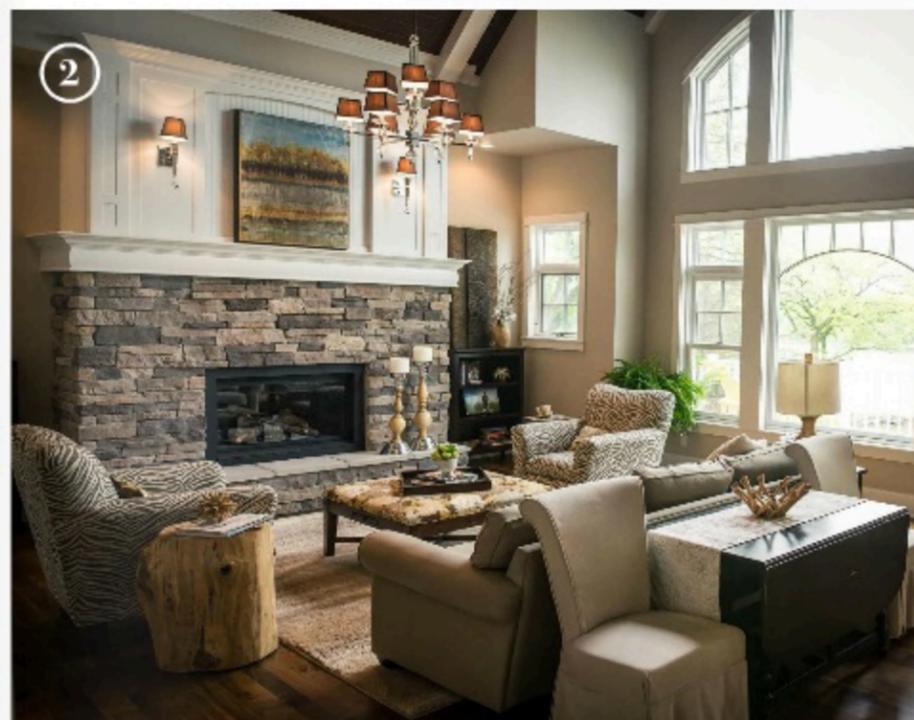

Settled on five acres, just off Little Pine Lake in Perham, the Sturdevant family lives in this energy star certified home. It is a compilation of design from architect Tony Stoll, BHH Partners and Kelli Wegscheid, formerly of BHH Partners, now Harmonious Architecture. It features a spiral staircase, an in-house sound system and catwalk on the second floor that gives you a perfect view of the living room and entryway, as well as a lovely view of outside. Everything about this home is seemingly perfect.

Where: Perham, MN
 Bedrooms: 5
 Bathrooms: 6
 Built: 2010

1. The Sturdevant's spiral staircase was a must for their new home.

2. The main floor living room has beautiful windows that allow plenty of natural light to pour in.

Exceptional!

3. This family spends a lot of time in their kitchen, so they needed to have the right amount of seating: bench seating by a table, seating by the island and also seating by the kitchen fireplace.

4. This formal dining room is the perfect place for family dinner.

5. The master bathroom is placed just down a private hallway from the bedroom and is filled with beautiful granite and a distinct arch above the bathtub.
